To open an existing image, choose File⇒Open or press Ctrl+O (Windows) or Command+O (Mac). If you want to work with an image that's in a program other than Photoshop, you need to _import_ it, which involves transferring the image from that program into Photoshop. To import an image from another application, choose Image⇒Image Processing⇒Import. An Imported Image appears in the selected Photoshop window. * Take a new picture: The camera application on your computer is a great source of images. You may already have several photos sitting in your camera's memory. If not, start by choosing File⇒New. You can also use the Quick button to instantly record an image from the screen, and the Picture Style dialog box, shown in Figure 8-4, enables you to adjust the colors and effects the camera applies when it saves the photo. Figure 8-4: Select from several different picture styles in Modulation of the expression of intercellular adhesion molecules in intestinal epithelium. Intestinal epithelial cells express a variety of cell-surface proteins which function in controlling the affinity of cell-cell interactions. Intercellular adhesion molecule-1 (ICAM-1) is a member of the Ig superfamily which is expressed on endothelial cells, histiocytes, and a variety of other cell types. Antibody binding to ICAM-1 can mediate lymphocyte-endothelial cell adhesion and may be involved in antigen presentation. ICAM-2 is also a member of the Ig superfamily and is a ligand for LFA-1, a protein expressed on T cells and monocytes/macrophages which is necessary for interaction of effector and target cells in the immune response. We have studied the expression of ICAM-1 and ICAM-2 in intestinal epithelial cells by determining binding of monoclonal antibodies to this structure. We demonstrate that the surface expression of ICAM-1 and ICAM-2 is increased by treatment of T84 or HT29 cells with either the tumor promoter 12-O-tetradecanoyl phorbol 13-acetate or the cytokines IL-1, IL-4, and IFN-gamma. Tumor promoters and cytokines have previously been shown to modulate the expression of a variety of epithelial cell-surface proteins. This suggests that there may be multiple pathways of epithelial cell growth and modulation.Q: Why can't I run the check command? I am a newbie in Ubuntu. I have tried to install a linux package. I used the command from the guide to install it: sudo apt-get install mesa-utils It told me I should run the command: apt-get -yf install The result was as follows: About to install '/etc/apt/sources.list.d/amd64-micro-header_6.1.0-0ubuntu0.1~xenial_amd64.list': The repository ' xenial-proposed-updates Release' does not have a Release file.
