Acute effects of dobutamine infusion in patients with systolic heart failure: a randomized, double-blind, crossover study. Although dobutamine exerts a positive inotropic effect, the short-term effect of dobutamine (up to 2 h) on hemodynamics and neurohumoral parameters is uncertain. To determine the acute hemodynamic effects of dobutamine infusions in patients with heart failure. Twenty-nine patients with heart failure (left ventricular ejection fraction, 35%) were randomized to receive either dobutamine (up to 40 microg/kg/min) or placebo during a 20-min infusion in a double-blinded randomized, 2-period, crossover design.

Cardiac index, heart rate, and mean arterial pressure decreased similarly during dobutamine and placebo ($P = 0.16$, 0.56 , and 0.24 , respectively). Systemic vascular resistance decreased by 19% ($P = 0.03$) during dobutamine. Hemoglobin concentration, however, decreased by 2.1 g/dl ($P = 0.02$) and oxygen consumption increased by 28 ml/min/m² ($P = 0.03$) during dobutamine. Dobutamine, at doses achievable in clinical practice, does not alter cardiac index, heart rate, and systemic vascular resistance. Dobutamine decreases systemic vascular resistance and raises oxygen consumption. My favourite thing is to see how they check their email when they get home. It's a thing that you'd never think to do. They'll open up the special email account that they keep just for this (because hey, that's where family and friends send you funny/upsetting stuff). They'll launch edd6d56e20
